

NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Program Panel Discussion

Friday, June 29, 2012

Smith Seminar Room, 1080 Physics Research Building

1:30-3:00pm

Hosted by the Center for Emergent Materials

What the panel offers

Advice from current NSF Graduate Research Fellows
Application preparation tips: what to include and what to avoid when you finalize your application packet.
Additional places to seek support for the application process

Who should attend

Anyone pursuing or who has recently completed a BS/BA degree in a science, math or engineering field

Undergraduates who are considering applying for graduate school

Early Career Graduate Students in their first year or the first quarter of their second year and have not completed more than 12 months of full-time graduate study

NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Program

What the NSF GRFP Fellowship Entails

Three years of support
$30,000 Stipend per year
$10,500 Educational allowance to institution
International research opportunities
Supercomputer access

Eligibility

U.S. citizens and permanent residents
Early-career students
Pursuing research-based MS and PhD

Please RSVP to mcombs.75@osu.edu

