

Technology Specialist —100% Telework from Any U.S. Location

DiBerardino McGovern IP Group (DMIP Group) is seeking a Technology Specialist to join our team on a full-time basis.

Strong academic credentials and at least a Bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, or Physics are required. Applicants with a graduate degree and academic or professional experience with electronics or optical systems are preferred. Candidates should enjoy writing and have strong writing skills. Applicants must have a strong work ethic and a desire to be part of a virtual law practice, be professional and proactive, be detail oriented, and able to manage multiple deadlines and set priorities.

The position will involve all aspects of patent prosecution, including patent application drafting and analysis. The position will also include learning about all different kinds of technologies to the level that the Technology Specialist can write about and talk about the technologies. Examples of technologies that we work with include electrical, mechanical, optical, and imaging systems, and optical lithography. The position will also include supporting members of DMIP Group with respect to patent counseling, such as technical analysis related to freedom-to-operate, invalidity, and non-infringement investigations.

We offer a competitive salary, flexible working hours, a 401k plan, and a friendly work environment. DMIP Group is a virtual law firm, and we offer the opportunity to work remotely from any location in the United States.

In line with being a virtual law practice in which client confidentiality is a requirement, each applicant must have a dedicated work space that is closed off from the rest of the building in which the applicant works. High-speed internet service must be provided to the work space.

DMIP Group is a patent law firm that is dedicated to patent prosecution and counseling. We provide our clients with high quality legal services typically associated with larger firms in the personalized atmosphere of a small boutique that offers responsiveness and reasonable rates.

Interested candidates are invited to submit their resume, transcripts, and salary requirements in confidence to hr@dmipgroup.com. DMIP Group is an equal opportunity employer and is certified as a women's business enterprise by the Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC).
